Microsoft do NOT give you the ability to download the entire IE6 SP1 from their website. Instead they give you a 500KB exe file that you download and then run from your machine.

But what if you want to download the FULL IE6 SP1...?

You may have more than one PC connected via dialup and do not want to spend an hour installing on each machine.

Well it IS possible to pull down the FULL set of files, then save to CD so you can update all your PC's quickly.

NB - If you already have Windows XP SP1 (and later) installed then you HAVE Internet Explorer SP1 installed too...

How to download the full IE6 SP1...

-First of all you will need to visit the Microsoft website and get the IE6 SP1 installer using this link: ie6setup.exe (479kb)

-Create the following folder on your computer:

Windows File Protection

C:\Downloads

Computer Workstation Ergonomics

-Now save this file to this location on your computer.

-Go to the Start Menu and select Run

WinTasks 5 Professional

A small window will appear. type in the following including the quotation marks:

Windows XP Task manager

"C:\Downloads\ie6setup.exe" /c:"ie6wzd.exe /d /s:""#E"

Stop Messages

A screen like the one below will appear:

Now you can select where you want the files to be saved.

Then select the operating system you require. (You can select ALL if you wish... this would be 49MB)

Then click the next button and a window like the one below will appear showing you the download progress for ie6 sp1 files:

You will now download ie6 sp1 onto your PC!

Just open C:\Downloads folder and there are the files... You can now burn them into CD and install onto other computers as appropriate.
